

SILENT SPRING INSTITUTE
Researching the Environment and Women's Health

Environmental Health and Prevention Science A Research Update

"A study of health effects from exposure to PFAS in drinking water in two communities in Eastern MA—Hyannis and Ayer," Laurel Schaidler, Research Scientist, Environmental Chemistry and Engineering.

"Screening chemicals for breast cancer risk: A new tool for improving chemical safety testing and developing safer products," Ruthann Rudel, Director of Research, Toxicology and Risk Assessment

Wednesday, December 11th
12:00-1:30 p.m. (lunch will be served)
Barnstable Town Hall, 2nd Floor Hearing Room
367 Main Street, Hyannis, MA

 ASL interpreters available upon request*

For more information, contact:
Cheryl Osimo
cherylosimo@comcast.net
(508) 246-3047

www.silentspring.org

